IN MEMORIAM

MISS SUFFOLK

The annual Miss Suffolk Contest reached its climax this year at the Coronation Ball, held at the Parker House Roof on February 21, 1964. A honey-blonde sophomore, Miss Cinthia Dibble, was crowned queen by Mr. D. Bradley Sullivan, Dean of Admissions.

The twenty year old coed, escorted by John McLellan, was also chosen Delta Sigma Phi's ROSE.

DEDICATION

From 1948 when he came to Suffolk as Chairman of the Modern Language Department until his retirement in 1963, Dr. McKee proved himself to be one of the finest professors ever to teach at Suffolk. After World War II when Suffolk experienced a period of increased enrollment, he displayed his dedication to teaching by instructing more than the normal amount of classes expected of a professor. As a result of his efforts, the Modern Language Department attained the position it enjoys today.

It is for these reasons that the graduating class of 1964 wishes to pay tribute to a great scholar and teacher, Dr. George H. McKee.

PREVIEWS

FOREWORD

Since its discovery by the early settlers, Beacon Hill has attracted men of sensitivity and intelligence. For those who loved beauty the Hill offered a view of picturesque Boston Harbor where sailing ships were seen. Its convenience to central Boston attracted others to her.

People destined to become famous in all walks of life either came to live on the Hill or at least to visit her. Such names as Howells, Thackeray, Dickens, Alcott as well as Bulfinch, Copley, and Adams became an integral part of Beacon Hill's history. It has been written that Beacon Hill is "where every alley has a legend and all stones are hallowed." It seems inevitable, that such a place so rich in creativity and learning should give birth to a university.

Throughout this book will be found photographs of some of the landmarks which have made the Hill known to all men of culture.

For the past few years we have been a part of the Hill. Now we are part of her history. It is fitting, then, that the theme of this book is historical Beacon Hill.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

May I extend to you, the graduates of the Class of 1964, my most sincere congratulations.

Now that you are about to leave Suffolk, I have certain definite hopes for you. I hope that as a result of your studies here you are better qualified to take your place in the working community. I hope that the ideals and standards instilled in you by the Faculty will help you to make decisions that will be beneficial to your city, to your state, and to your nation. I hope that as a result of your participation in school activities you will be better able to assume the civic responsibilities now so incumbent on all good citizens. Finally, I hope that the many good friends you have made at Suffolk will be a source of great strength and pleasure to you through the years.

If my hopes for you are fulfilled, you may be sure that your efforts at Suffolk University have been justified and that your years ahead will be most fruitful.

Sincerely,

Dennis C. Haley

ADVISOR'S MESSAGE

To the members of the Class of 1964:

We are in the midst of an era of transition, an era of stress and change. Now more than ever before in its history, our nation is in need of a well-trained, highly dedicated, and responsible leadership, one that will be capable of meeting the many challenges and of solving problems that face the nation today, yet never at the expense of the great American ideals.

The members of the class of 1964 have been fortunate. They have received the benefits of a higher education which will permit them to take their places in various economic activities and to become a part of that dedicated and responsible leadership in whose hands our country's future rests. It is with the utmost confidence that they will not shun their responsibilities or betray their trust that I extend to all my heartiest congratulations.

THE SECRETARIES

Behind every man there is a woman and behind every functioning institution there is a staff of nimble-fingered smiling nymphs (secretaries). At times one could not be sure if they were working for the students, administration, or themselves. Nevertheless, marks and bills went out and rising above the tumult were those valiant ladies.

SPORTS

Coach Charles Law, in his eighteenth season as varsity coach of the Suffolk basketball team, led his squad to another successful season. This year the Rams won 10 and lost 8. Coach Law has an excellent lifetime record of 200 victories and 121 defeats.

The Rams were led to the finals in the Babson Tournament by Captain George Summers, Ronnie Cinelli, and All New England selection Bill Vrettis. This team, as a whole, was one of the top scoring in New England.

The graduating members of this year's team are George Summers, Paul LaBrecque, Wayne Hamilton, Bob O'Neil, and Tom Regal. Because of an unusually strong Freshman team, Coach Law is looking forward to an even better year in '65.

BASEBALL

The Suffolk University Baseball Team had a successful season by winning 7 out of 12 games. Coach George Doucet's Rams were led by the heavy hitting Steve Tracey, Ralph Walker, Ronnie Cinelli, and the pitching of Dennis Caron, who won 5 games. Jack Daly and John Cummings rounded out the pitching staff, each winning a game apiece. This was a young ball club, so the outlook for next season is bright.

The graduating members of this year's team are: Steve Tracey, John Cummings, and John Grant.

LIVING

Although more hectic than gracious, those who chose to break the umbilical cord of their homes found it a rewarding experience. Boys learned they could cook and clean; the distaff found that they could not. Because of strict university supervision, it was easy to cultivate good study habits as everyone was usually in bed by 10:00 . . . Monday morning.

Aptly termed the Student Activities Office as this is where dances are planned, thousands of dollars change hands, golden voiced announcements emanate from, and Machiavellian plots are hatched. Many believe it to be a secret society, but those who venture there find only confusion.

All right, you'll get in the book.

Let me at 'em!!!

Hootenanny

Jackie sings "Shenendoah"

Suffolk's first Hootenanny proved successful. The Barrington Balladeers provided the entertainment for the first half of the show, and great entertainment it was. The second half featured Jackie Washington, who has been a leading participant in the Boston and Cambridge milieu for many years.

JR.-SR.

PROM

The 1964 Prom was held in the medieval setting of the Longwood Towers, Brookline to the music of Walter Cisco. Peggy Walsh was selected as queen. It was a decision based both on beauty and a high degree of interest and participation in the University through extracurricular activities. The evening was a fitting capstone to Jr.-Sr. Week and, for most, four memorable and profitable years.

GRADUATION

Dr. Dennis C. Haley presided at the 1964 commencement exercises held at the Donnelly Memorial Theatre on June fourteenth. For Dr. Haley, who is retiring, it was the end of a career, and for those graduating, the beginning.

Guest speaker, Senator John O. Pastore, who is Vice Chairman of the Joint Committee on Nuclear Energy, challenged us "to complete the American dream."

"You are the ones to whom America must look. You are the educated ones. You have searched for truth."

EDITORS' NOTE

The "64" BEACON is published with the hope of depicting Suffolk University and its population, academically, socially, and culturally. To do this, it is impossible to strictly confine the book to the Senior Class. We attempted to keep with the trend of humor recently introduced in this publication. It is our feeling that it makes sections such as the Faculty more meaningful and enjoyable, than would a simple listing. In breaking with tradition we had a collegiate size book, the use of duotone, as well as four color processes, a dignified cover, and a higher grade of paper stock.

We would particularly like to thank Ruth Rydberg and Sandy McAlister for their cooperation and countless hours of time. Of special note is Al Raymond's art work, which added depth and meaning to this year's BEACON.
